Honesty: Press Vs. Politicians

As most people know, United States Senator Alan Cranston is a track star. He appears in track meets in San Diego and elsewhere from time to time, often defeating sprint runners of his genre.

He is also a former newsman. He was, prior to becoming a statesman, a correspondent for United Press International.

He is quick of mind as he is of feet and carries within himself a newsman's philosophy. It is not surprising then that he would champion the cause of a free press—an ongoing battle he wages whenever some government agency thinks up a reason for clamping controls on the press.

He mounted his white charger again a few days ago when he charged that President Nixon's call for "more permissive slander and libel laws to protect politicians is a transparent strike at the press for blowing the lid off the Watergate mess."

"He should be more concerned about public figures telling the truth than about the press allegedly libeling public officials," Cranston said.

White House counselor Bryce Harlow contended that the President's urging for tighter press controls was "not an effort to shaft the press."

Cranston quickly responded that "this is clearly an effort to shaft not only the press but to shaft the First Amendment and the public's right to be told about corruption and abuse of power in government."

"The country is now suffering not from unscrupulous press attacks on public figures but rather from unscrupulous attacks by public figures on truth, morality and law."

The Johnson and Nixon administrations lied to the American people about the conduct of the war in Southeast Asia. Then public officials at the highest level have admitted to, or have been indicted for, a premeditated plan to lie and cover-up what John Mitchell called "the Watergate horrors."

"It was our free press, unfettered by fears of unreasonable libel suits and spurred by the desire to get at the whole truth that brought these charges to light."

"Any new restrictive laws in this area should be directed at public officials who violate their public trust—not at a free press fulfilling its responsibility," Cranston said.

Supreme Court rulings make it extremely difficult for public officials, public figures and newsworthy persons to win a libel suit. They must prove actual malice or that the material disseminated was an injurious falsehood with reckless disregard for truth.

A free-wheeling press profoundly discomfits people in power, Cranston acceded. But it is not the job of the press in a free society to say sweet things about the people who wield power in government.

Cranston said he would vigorously oppose a federal libel law as proposed by the President in a recent message to Congress. The law would pre-empt state statutes and make it easier for federal office holders and political candidates to win libel suits.

"Any public official or one who wants to be who can't stand the heat of total press disclosure should take President Truman's advice and get out of the political kitchen," Cranston said.

It would indeed be sad if the President has forgotten that politics is show biz. All of the fun and interest will be eliminated from the body politic if the critics are banned.

The newsman's posture is that anyone who offers his creation or his profession up for public approval by ticket (shows), acclaim (art) or vote (politics) is inviting criticism. Good criticism, hopefully. How can criticism be believed if only flattering critiques may be given?

In a press conference later, Cranston said he would also fight a national "right-to-reply" law for political candidates who are criticized by news media. He said the idea is dangerous and deplorable. "Once the government is given the power to tell newspapers what they must print in the name of 'fairness' it is only a matter of time before the government will be telling newspaper what they must not print—also in the name of 'fairness'."

A newspaper's sense of professionalism and its readers' demands for fairplay are far superior safeguards for fairness and freedom than the heavy hands of self-serving government agents.

For most Americans, a free press is their only defense against government. For the elected official who malperforms, the press is ready to make it hot for him, thus giving credence to the Truman doctrine on "kitchen heat".

Longer Hours For LG Sheriff's Office

Lemon Grove Sheriff's station office hours have been extended from 5 p.m. to 10 p.m., primarily through the use of volunteer Reserve Deputy Sheriffs. The station is at 7859 Broadway.

Captain B. R. (Barney) Oldham, commander of the Lemon Grove station, said the office is fully manned from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

"Under the new program, we keep one deputy on duty at the office from 5 to 6 p.m., and then a male and a female Reserve Deputy come on duty until 10 p.m.," Oldham said.

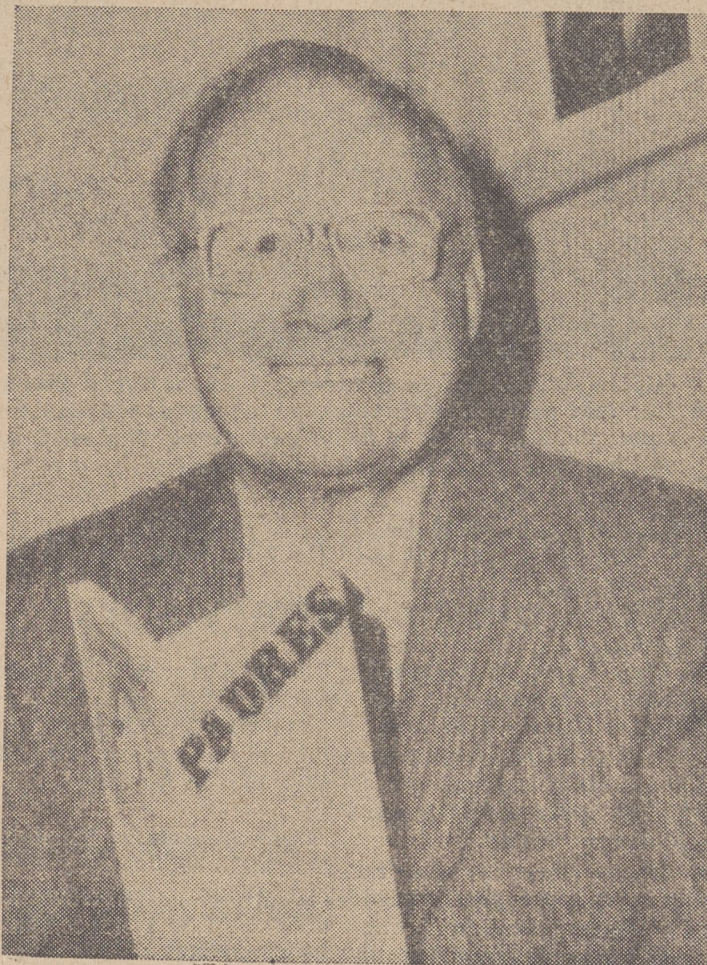

"These well-trained volunteers provide information and directions, write crime reports, answer phones and perform other duties in the office. Of course they also assist regular deputies when they are needed," he said.

Captain Oldham said growth within the area served by the Lemon Grove station, including Otay, Castle Park, Bonita, Sweetwater, Spring Valley and Casa de Oro, calls for the expanded service.

Schuss Joins Couppee in Parade

AL SCHUSS

Famed Veteran Sportscaster

Made Lane Field, Padres Popular

Former sportscaster Al Parade Marshal by the OTD Schuss said this week that he would join the "court" of Also in the court are Ed KGTV sports director Al Runge, the famed former Couppee in the Lemon Grove American League umpire and Old Time Days Parade April Bob Kerrigan, who pitched 27. Couppee has been named the Lane Field Padres to their first Pacific Coast League championship.

Schuss, whose voice is still remembered across the nation, was in Lemon Grove earlier this week to discuss his part in the parade. The voice that thrilled untold thousands of sports fans until the National League debut of the Padres, still has the same exciting sound of yesteryear.

It has been said by many that it was Schuss' voice that made the PCL Padres popular. It very well may have been because he was the team's voice for 20 years. He is now a real estate investment counselor.

Schuss achieved attention as a baseball broadcaster with Pat Flannigan in Chicago, then with Red Barber in Brooklyn. He was on the air in Milwaukee for 5 years; Brooklyn, 2 and Portland, 2. His Padre baseball career in San Diego was from 1949 to 1969. His voice has the same authority today as it had five years ago.

Parade Starts at 11

The parade will start at 11 a.m. at Massachusetts and Broadway and travel east to Washington st., opposite St. John of the Cross Catholic church. The end of the parade will also be opposite the location of the Old Time Days Carnival.

Carnival tickets, valued at 35 and 40 cents, will be five for a dollar when bought in books of five in advance. They may be obtained from merchant members of OTD or from members of the Mt. Miguel Boosters Club.

The parade will be long—as long as the previous ones, according to Don McCray, parade chairman.

In the parade will be youngsters who will have won trophies in a costume contest that will be held at 10:30—just before the parade starts. The contest will be conducted on the B. F. Goodrich parking lot at 7285 Broadway.

Directly after the parade St. Phillip's church will start its annual barbecue dinner, and it will be kept going until 7 p.m. This year there will be entertainment by the L. G. Junior Pop Band.

The carnival will start on Wednesday, April 24 and continue through Sunday, a day after the parade.

IRS Reports Two LG Gas Stations Agree To Refund

Two Lemon Grove service stations have voluntarily agreed to roll back prices and refund overcharges on gasoline and diesel fuel, Barry Rans, IRS Stabilization Investigation Chief, said.

Lemon Grove College station at 81881 Broadway will refund $880, and Pit Stop No. 7 at 7081 Broadway will refund part of the $19,800 agreed upon by Dytron Development Company.

The two area gas stations are part of the $90,000 refund program enforced by IRS in Southern California to comply with Economic Stabilization Act petroleum regulations.

"Since February 1, we have received some 10,000 complaints of every nature regarding gasoline prices and selling practices," Rans said. "Many of these have been resolved by simply explaining that there is no uniform ceiling price for petroleum products and that periodic increases in gas prices have been authorized."

Rans said that regulations have permitted a monthly pass-through of increased wholesale costs of fuel by retailers. Additionally, two non-product price increases have been allowed since the first of the year to help compensate retail gas dealers for other overhead cost increases, loss of volume, etc.

Rans said that IRS Stabilization Agents have obtained voluntary compliance agreements in checking out more than 1200 complaints of petroleum irregularities in the past six weeks.

S.V. Kindergarten Sign-up Starts April 1

Starting Monday, children who plan to begin kindergarten in the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District for the 1974-75 school year should begin registering.

Lemon Grove school officials, at the Lemon Grove School District Elementary Center, said that no plans had been made for their kindergarten registration, but that an announcement would probably come in May.

Registration will be on a first come, first serve basis at each of the local elementary schools which are open Monday through Friday.

"It is important to pupils, parents, and the school to register as soon as possible in order to ensure kindergarten placement at the nearest school," said Dr. David Pascoe, associate superintendent. No child will be denied kindergarten attendance; however, there have been occasions when placement has had to be away from the home or neighborhood school. The earlier registration also allows needed time for the formation of next year's classes.

To enter kindergarten, State law requires that a child must be five years old on or before next December 2. A district school may not officially register a pupil until the following requirements are met:

Verification of Birth: This should be in the form of a certified copy of a birth record or a statement by the local registrar or a county recorder certifying the date of birth, or a baptism certificate duly attested, or a passport, or when none of the foregoing is obtainable, an affidavit of the parent, guardian or custodian of the minor.

Immunization (except for those whose beliefs prohibit immunization); (1) Polio: three injections of Salk vaccine or three doses of Sabin vaccine (oral) or two Trivalent polio vaccine (oral); (2) Red Measles (Rubella); not to be confused with Rubella (German measles); (3) Diphtheria - Pertussis (Whooping Cough)—Tetanus (DPT).

Children should be registered at the school which they expect to attend. The district office can be contacted at 469-6171, extensions 33 and 34, for information on attendance boundaries.

Gas Station Robbed of $525

A robber waited until the Ulrich service station had closed its pumps for the night Sunday before doing his job.

The robber was pointing a gun at Rick Statler, 32, and demanding the money. The money was about $525. The station is at 9895 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

The robber, described as approximately 22 years of age and black, entered the room where the receipts were being counted, according to Dean Schraum, Ulrich manager.

About four months ago the station was robbed by a man with a club. At that time he beat the attendant into unconsciousness and left him bleeding on the floor. The attendant recovered. The robber was never apprehended. It is believed different men were involved in the two robberies. Also, the attendants were different.

KIDDY TRAP—Neighbors in the St. George st.-Ramona ave area of Spring Valley were seeking relief this week from the hazard they say has resulted from a move-on house that has been on piers for three years.

In a petition signed by 15 residents, it was cited that the deteriorating building has been an attractive nuisance for children; an eyesore of the community; an evening hangout for teenagers, and a fire hazard. It was the scene of several fires, it was reported.

Sam Moore, an investigator for the County Planning Department, says relief may soon come. He has been on the case during the years it was stored on the property. As recently as last week the owner was in his office seeking extension of time due to possible litigation on the part of one of the prior owners.

Moore says he will discuss the situation with those in the neighborhood by telephone. He should be called at 236-2829 or 236-2833 during the early part of the day. He said he issued the first complaint against the storage two years ago but that extensions had been granted because it appeared that the problem would be resolved within the extension period.

PERRY PHRASES

ON THE PERI-METER

Jane Colnot and her son Jack who operate Candelier and Candelier Hallmark shops, were visiting a movie set recently and were awed by the skill and courage of the stunt man. "I've never seen anything like it!" Mrs. Colnot gushed to the young studio guide. "The way he leaps out of that speeding car, somersaults in the air and plunges over the cliff to the water two-hundred feet below! How on earth does he ever manage to do it?"

"I dunno," came the reply. "They get a different guy every day."

Overheard in Eadies' Re-sale Shop by owners Steve and Eadie Broxton, was the diplomacy of a teeny-bopper who announced: "Mom, I have great news for you. Remember the $10.00 you promised me if I passed history? Well, you can keep it."

A Health Tip For Easter Bunnies

Planning to eat those Easter eggs after you have dyed and hid them this year for the children? If so, take special care in preparing and storing them, because they are an easy target for food poisoning.

Four members of a San Diego family last Easter, became ill, apparently from the sandwiches they had made from eggs that had been on display at room temperature for five days before the holiday.

Staphylococcus germs were blamed for the illness by the San Diego Department of Health. The germs may have easily entered the eggs through the porous shell. One family member was hospitalized, but the whole family recovered.

To insure that your Easter eggs are safe to eat follow these simple precautionary measures:

1. Refrigerate the eggs shortly after boiling them.
2. Do not leave them at room temperature for several days.
3. Avoid puncturing the egg shell, as germs may easily enter it that way.
4. If you use the eggs in other dishes be sure to refrigerate them promptly also.
5. Do not handle the eggs if you have an infection or skin cuts.

The service is being made available by a grant from the Administration on Aging, according to Richard J. Thomson, director. The "One Number" information service is being developed in response to many requests from senior citizens throughout the county. To insure local response, the program will employ seniors to provide information in their own communities.

Agencies interested in contracting to provide this county-wide service should contact Mrs. B. J. Spittler, assistant director. Letters of intent to submit a proposal will be accepted until April 1. It is expected that the program will be operational before June 1. For further information call 235-6432.

How to read your gas and electric bill

What's the first (and probably only) thing you notice on your monthly SDG&E bill? Chances are, it's the amount due. But if you're trying to keep track of energy savings, you've got the wrong number! It's like using your gasoline bill to find out how far you've actually driven your car.

To figure out how much energy you're using...or not using...you should read the rest of your bill. But before we explain how, you need to "speak the language":

KWHR — Stands for kilowatt-hour, the basic unit used to measure the electricity you use. More specifically, a kilowatt-hour is the amount of electricity needed to keep one 100 watt light bulb burning for 10 hours.

Therm — The unit used to bill your gas consumption. Your gas meter records consumption by volume or cubic feet. But you are billed for the actual heat content which is a fairer value of your usage than cubic feet consumed.

Therm multiplier — The factor used to determine your gas heat value. Your meter reading is multiplied by this figure which varies with original gas source or time of year. Gas supplies are continuously sampled to determine heat content and keep therm multipliers accurate.

Take it from the top

1 TYPE SERVICE:

This tells whether you use electricity or gas and electricity.

2 RATE:

This indicates your rate classification. D-1, D-2, D-3, etc., are various categories for residential electric consumption. G-1, G-2, etc., are for gas. The whole classification system is explained on the back of your bill. Your category is based on geographic location, with customers outside the metropolitan area being charged more per unit due to the expense of longer distribution.

3 SERVICE:

These two columns show the time period for which you are being billed...usually about 30 days, although the number of days will vary and will not necessarily correspond with the exact number of days in a given month.

4 METER READINGS PRESENT:

This is the reading on your meter on the last day of the period to which this bill applies.

5 METER READINGS PREVIOUS:

This is the reading on your meter on the first day of the period to which this bill applies.

6 METER CONSTANT:

A measurement which applies primarily to commercial customers.

7 CONSUMPTION:

This is the key column! Remember KWHR measures electricity used. Therms measure gas used. And 1000 lb.

applies only to commercial steam customers. KWHR: Subtract previous meter reading from present meter reading. Therms: Subtract previous meter reading from present meter reading. THEN MULTIPLY BY THE THERM MULTIPLIER IN THE LOWER RIGHT

CORNER OF YOUR BILL...10

Example: Present gas reading: 8668
Previous gas reading: 8505
Therm Multiplier x 1.057
163
172.29
or 172 therms

8 AMOUNT:

A word about rate increases. Just as the price of food and gasoline is going up, the cost of electricity and gas rise periodically to cover rising fuel and production costs. If you're comparing 1974 usage with last year's be sure to use consumption figures, not cost, since there have been 5 electric rate increases since last August totaling an 18% increase.

9 FRANCHISE FEE DIFFERENTIAL:

A franchise fee is paid to all cities for the right to use public right-of-ways, streets and highways to deliver your gas and electricity. The fee differential applies only to customers within the San Diego city limits because San Diego charges a higher rate than other areas of the county.

...and your meter

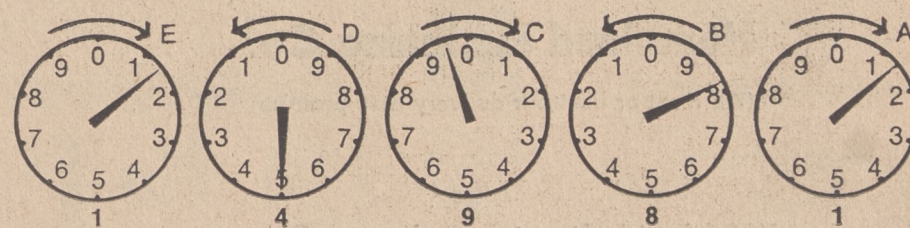

Looking directly at the meter, read from the far right dial to the left. Read each dial in the direction indicated by the arrows.

If the dial hand is between two numbers, write down the lower number.

When a dial hand is exactly on a number, look at the meter face to the right. If its dial hand has not passed zero, record the next lowest number. For example, in the illustration, Dial D appears to be on 5. However, the hand in Dial C has not passed zero. So the number for Dial D is actually 4.

While the meter reading is taken from right to left, it is read from left to right...so the meter reading in this example is 14981. Meters are read approximately every thirty days...on or about the same day each month. Check your last two bills to see when yours is read, if you're keeping track. Some meters have only four dial faces. The reading then is a four-digit number, taken the same way.

Gas and electric meters look much alike and they are often located in different places around your house. So be sure to check which one you're using.

If you have questions or would like more detailed explanations of billing or meter reading, we'll be glad to help.

TAX ANSWERS?

F. S. Schmidt, DISTRICT DIRECTOR, INTERNAL REVENUE SERVICE

by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Is it true that if you are expecting a refund and you file your return in March, you will get your refund sooner?

A. Yes. Because fewer taxpayers file in March than the peak filing month of April, the IRS is able to process your return and issue your refund quicker at this time. Of course, your return must contain no mistakes that would delay processing.

Q. Can anyone under 65 ever qualify for the retirement income credit?

A. Yes. If you are under 65, you may qualify for the retirement income credit if you receive retirement income from a public retirement system, such as those set up for Federal, state, or local government employees, armed forces personnel, public school teachers and policemen.

Remember, if you are eligible to claim the retirement income credit, you can have the IRS compute it for you. See your tax form instructions and Schedule R for details.

Q. I'm divorced and have custody of my child. Can I take advantage of the lower tax rates for "heads of household" or must I file as a single taxpayer?

A. Generally, you can file as a head of household if you meet the following requirements:

1) You must be unmarried on the last day of your tax year.

2) You must maintain a household and contribute over half the cost of maintaining it.

3) Your unmarried child must live with you in the household you maintain as the principal residence of both you and your child. The child need not be your dependent.

Q. What are some checks I can make to avoid an error on my return?

A. To insure the prompt processing of your return, you should check the following before sending your return: (1) be sure all your mathematical computations are correct; (2) be sure you use the correct tax table or tax rate schedule; (3) be sure you use the peel-off label (with any name or address corrections) from the cover of your tax forms package; (4) be sure that your return is signed and dated; joint returns must have the signatures of husband and wife; and (5) be certain all W-2 Forms and supporting documents are attached to your return.

Q. What form should I use to compute my child care deduction.

A. IRS Form 2441, "Expenses for Household and Dependent Care Services," or equivalent computation detail should be submitted with your return, if you deduct child care expenses. Use the order blank on the back of your tax form package to obtain a copy or request one at a local IRS office.

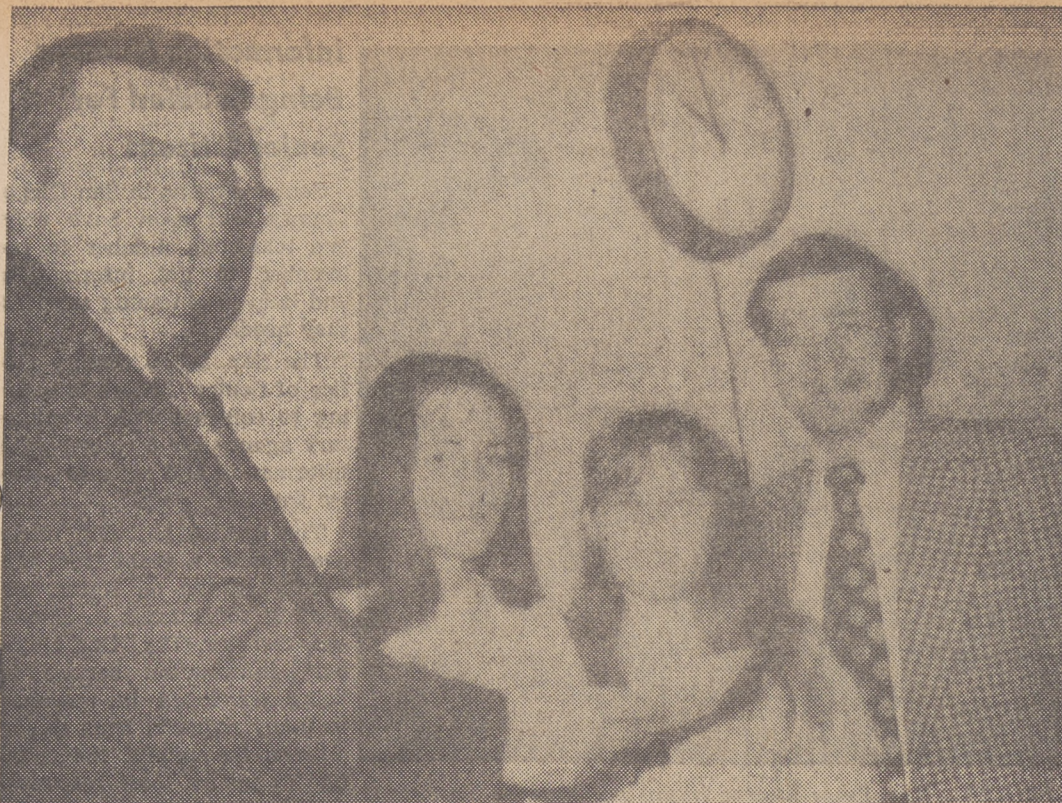

IRS Publication 503, "Child Care and Disabled Dependent Care," describes the requirements for the deduction. It's available free by also using the order blank.

Q. I noticed there are two places on the 1973 Federal income tax return to check off tax dollars to the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. Did you make a mistake?

A. No. On the 1973 returns, taxpayers have the opportunity to check off $1 ($2 if married filing jointly) for 1973 and, if they did not check off on their 1972 return, this may be done on the 1973 return also.

Q. I don't live in a county. Do I still have to file in this block on my tax return?

A. Yes, you must fill in the block. But see your tax form instructions for information on what to do in these circumstances.

AMIGOS—The Lemon Grove Rotary club president presents a $400 check to Dr. Myron Fessler, (right) for aid to the Amigos de las Americas program. Next to Guest is Ann Rosenberg,, a Crawford High school student, a recent returnee from Columbia, and Cathy Porter, of Mt. Miguel, who just entered the program and has not yet been assigned to a South American country. In the program, youngsters take an intensive six-month health course and become the local extension of the area doctor in the country they serve. They are able to advise on sanitation and give shots, and much health care and advice in between. Each youngster must pay $250 toward his own expenses which covers about one-third of the expenses. The money is usually used to buy vaccine. The rest comes from the public, usually from service clubs such as the Rotary club listed above. Dr. Fessler is director of the Amigos de los Americas board and serves the organization as advisor to the youth council.

USAC Midgets Race For Crown Friday

Veteran Indianapolis 500 driver Mel Kenyon of Lebanon, Ind. and Tony Simon of Upland are the first entries for this Friday night's USAC National Championship Midget auto races at the South Bay Speedway in Chula Vista. Racing begins at 8 p.m.

The 40 year old Kenyon is a three-time USAC National Midget driving champion, and has won a record 72 USAC midget features. His latest win was on an indoor track at the Cow Palace in San Francisco last February.

The eight-time Indianapolis 500 starter will be driving one of the sensational new Volkswagen powered midgets. These cars are the new sensation of the racing world, having taken over from the Offie and SESCO as the newest thing in powerplants.

Kenyon has a third, fourth, and fifth place in his credit in the Indianapolis 500, although he didn't drive in the Memorial Day classic until after having lost most of one hand in a fire crash at Langhorne, Pa. in 1965. He was third in the 1968 500 behind winner Bobby Unser.

Simon is rated one of the brightest prospects on the USAC circuit. He won the annual Thanksgiving night Midget Grand Prix at Ascot Park in 1972, but was injured in a sprint car crash last season and missed part of the year's racing. He'll drive a SESCO-Chevy powered car.

Other top drivers who will be on hand include Jimmy Caruthers, Larry Rice, Tommy Astone, Bobby Olivero, Ken Nichols, Rick Goudy, Dave Strickland, Jim Beckley and Merle Bettenhausen. AMA motorcycles will return to the half-mile oval Saturday at 8 p.m. for the second start of the season.

CHP Study Proves Hitchhikers Victims More Than Criminals

Hitchhikers "make a minor contribution" to California's crime and accident problem, a six-month Highway Patrol study concludes.

The CHP analyzed 662 hitchhiker-related crimes and accidents which occurred from May through October 1973, in response to a State Senate Resolution.

The study found hitchhikers are involved in approximately one of every 160 major crimes and one in 400 traffic accidents, "results which do not show that hitchhikers are over-represented in crimes or accidents." The random sample included reports from CHP officers and 106 cooperating police agencies.

Analysis of 435 major crimes showed hitchhikers are three times more likely to be the victim than the perpetrator. One-half of hitchhiker victims are women even though only one hitchhiker in 10 is female. Most are victims of sex offenses, while the typical male hitchhiker victim is robbed or assaulted. Three hitchhiker deaths were recorded.

Seven of eight hitchhiker offenders are men, and their most frequent crimes are robbery, theft or assault. The average age of hitchhikers is 19 for women, 22 for men.

Sixty-one traffic accidents were reported of which seven involved hitchhiker deaths and three the deaths of other parties. Almost half the accidents occurred after the hitchhiker had been picked up and could not be directly related to the act of hitchhiking. Thirty percent of the accidents involved vehicles which had stopped for a hitchhiker and 20 percent involved hitchhikers struck by passing vehicles.

The report isolated an additional 152 victimless law violations committed by hitchhikers. These included narcotics offenses, runaways, failure to have proper identification, and illegal hitchhiking itself.

SDG&E Begins Survey For Blythe Atom Plant

Geologists are about to start detailed investigations of the soil and geology of three potential nuclear power plant siting areas in the vicinity of Blythe.

San Diego Gas & Electric Company, which is considering construction of a nuclear power plant near Blythe, said it has authorized Fugro, Incorporated, a nationally-known firm of consulting engineers and geologists, to conduct the investigations.

The work will include trenching and cross section studies of the soil and rock composition, drilling and core sampling, and detailed geologic mapping of the siting areas.

The studies will continue for about six months. Fugro conducted preliminary geologic studies of the Blythe area for SDG&E last fall.

SDG&E said findings of the geological exploration will provide basic information needed by the company for making a decision on locating the proposed plant. Once a site has been selected, still more detailed investigations will be made of it to provide data for environmental reports and plant design.

SV Man Starts Baseball League for Young Men

Mike Nagem a Navy employee and Spring Valley resident is forming a new baseball league for young men aged 17 to 19-years-old in the Spring Valley area.

"There are plenty of opportunities for boys 8 to 16-years-old to play organized baseball in the various designated leagues. However, for a young man who doesn't attend college after high school there's no opportunity for the majority of these older youth to play organized baseball. This new league will make this possible," according to Nagem.

Nagem said there's no limit to the number of teams possible in this kind of league. He said the determining factor will depend on the number of young men interested in participating.

The kind of baseball league proposed by Nagem was active in the El Cajon area during 1973 and is expected to be in progress during 1974. Nagem can be reached at 465-8252 or 235-2843.

Dr. Schell opened both Bancroft and Highland Elementary Schools as principal. Since 1963 he has been district director of instructional materials.

Locking Gas Caps May Be Illegal

Owners of 1970 and later automobiles who buy locking gasoline tank caps may be in violation of vehicle pollution control laws, the California Air Resources Board, said recently.

Starting in 1970 all cars sold in California were required to have evaporative emissions control systems which included a pressure vacuum-relief type gas cap. Replacing the pressurized cap with a vented locking mechanism destroys the closed system and could cause gasoline hydrocarbons to escape into the atmosphere through evaporation or gasoline leakage.

Motorists who install vented locking caps on their gasoline tanks not only defeat the evaporative controls, but run the risk of citation by the California Highway Patrol for illegally modifying a State-approved vehicle emissions control system.

The evaporated control systems, which augment the required crankcase and exhaust emissions controls, capture vapors from the carburetor and fuel tank. They reduce hydrocarbon emission in new cars approximately 15 percent.

Any car owner who buys a locking gas cap should check with his new car dealer to be sure the cap is compatible with the evaporative emission control system on his particular model car.

Hayakawa, Carter Programmed for Home Federal Meet

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa and Robert N. Carter, nationally known speakers, will address more than 2,000 persons expected to attend the 7th Annual Open House for San Diego County Realtors and Builders sponsored by Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. April 9.

The Open House will be at Town and Country Convention Center starting at 1:30 p.m. with Home Federal president Kim Fletcher opening the program.

Dr. Hayakawa, as president of San Francisco State U. became famous when he resisted young militant activists in 1968.

Carter is an author, consultant and professional lecturer specializing in human resources development and marketing planning consultant.

Home Federal ranks 10th in the nation and largest real estate and home improvement lender in San Diego County producing more than $400 million in loans in 1973.

Submariner Surfaces As Probable Padre Regular

Mike Johnson may not be much of a music man, but, like the lyrics of an ageless song, his current style of pitching was "just one of those things."

Johnson, a 22-year-old right hander from Slayton, Minn., is bidding for a spot on the major league roster this spring with the Padres and his success will rely a lot on his mode of throwing.

"To set the record straight, Johnson is a submarine style pitcher, but it wasn't always that way. Far from it. When I first started out, I was a strict overhand pitcher like just about everyone else," related Johnson. "It wasn't until the 1970 season at Asheville (Southern League) that I made the switch to the submarine style of throwing."

"Everything was fine until the decision was made to make me strictly a relief pitcher. That's when the problems began. At first everything was all right," continued the Padre. "But then the constant throwing started to really tire out my arm. At one stretch I think I saw action in 17 of 32 games and pitched a lot of innings during that time."

"As a result, my overhand delivery began to drop until I was almost throwing the submarine ball."

That might have been the real break for Johnson as he developed a good sinking ball off his new style. "I was really wild to begin with, but when I had the control problems cured, I was pretty effective," Johnson remarked. "I was encouraged to stay with the submarine like throwing and it's paid off for me. My control was just a matter of time before it got straightened out."

At Asheville in that first season of submarining, he was 4-8 with more walks (45) than strikeouts (44) to his credit. However, his ERA was a healthy 1.91 and he was moved to the Three Rivers club in the Eastern League for 1971. "I really had a good sea-hopeful," commented Johnson. "I think that's where I was able to improve the most as far as my total pitching was concerned."

Johnson posted a 10-4 record, lowered his ERA to 1.83 and recorded more strikeouts than walks, 48-47. From Three Rivers, Johnson advanced to Indianapolis of the American Association and, while his record dipped to 5-6, he really improved on his control to the point where he had 70 strikeouts as opposed to 41 walks.

Last season it was more of the same as Johnson struck out 50 and walked just 25 in duty with both Alexandria and Indianapolis.

In Yuma, last weekend, Pete Bavasi, Padres general manager said Johnson "had a good chance of sticking". In a pre-game workout he appeared to have good control. But as every baseball fan knows, there's a difference when the pitcher faces hitters.

Foundation's Banquet to Host Tommy Prothro

SAN DIEGO — 500 football supporters are expected along with 25 of the county's outstanding high school scholars to hear San Diego Charger head coach Tommy Prothro address The National Football Foundation's second annual awards banquet on April 24.

The announcement was made by M. "Duke" Ferrara, Captain, USN (Ret.), a former coach at Holy Cross College and talented tackle for Annapolis from 1934-1936, before the Sportscenter/Sportswriters Assn. Ferrara, who is also in the San Diego Hall of Champions, said, "Former U. S. Senator George Murphy, president of The National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame, will also be a guest of honor at the affair."

"We asked Coach Prothro to address these fine young men, who along with being all-league CIF football players, have maintained at least a 3.0 (B) grade point average through school, because of his experience with young people," Ferrara said.

Prothro was a distinguished head coach at Oregon State and UCLA with 14 winning teams in 16 seasons. His overall record is 104 wins, 55 losses, and three ties. The honors banquet will be held at the Sheraton Island Hotel starting at 6:30. Tickets can be purchased from Allan Brown, 3434 4th ave., San Diego, the Hall of Champions, 1438 El Prado, Balboa Park or by calling the Football Foundation at 262-00861. Banquet price, including a steak dinner and the honors ceremonies, is $12.50 per person.

Entries should be turned in before Friday to Rick Rodriguez at the L. M. Rec. Center at 8440 University ave., or call him at 469-4128. Americans eat one out of four meals away from home, according to food service company statistics.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Everybody in the baseball world is getting kind of antsy about getting the season underway. Don't look now, but major league hostilities open up one week from today.

If we didn't have a gas shortage we wouldn't even know winter had been here. And now it's spring again and the sap is flowing.

And speaking of sap flowing, it's also the time when sports types pound out volumes of verbiage about how the local club is a leadpipe cinch to lock up the pennant by the All-Star game.

You will not get that ballyhoo here. It will probably take the Padres all summer and a considerable part of the state of Grace to nail down the National League's Western championship.

Why, there are those who think it may never even happen, but with the horses E. J. "Buzzie" Bavasi has assembled, pennant contention for the Padres is as sure as taxes to anybody but governors and presidents.

Now there are many pieces written about Padre stars new and old. The world is already stepping back and making a place in the shrine of success for the likes of Willie McCovey, Nate Colbert, Bobby Tolan, Johnny Grubb, Fred Kendall, Glen Beckert and Matty Alou.

And the richness of the youngsters, the quality of their play and the talent of their promise, give similar acceptance to such neophyte leather and lumber craftsmen as Dave Roberts, Dave Hilton, Randy Jones, Dave Frisleben, Dave Winfield, Rich Troedson and Dave Tomlin.

In fact one could go over the entire 25 man roster and say, "These men will do it." Of course, the best thing to say then is nothing. Just point, make the claim and skip out. Then when the promise of spring is left short in the fall, nobody will remember who the errant prophet was or what he said.

22 Losers Each Year

Unfortunately for 22 of the 24 teams, no pennant will be in the offing. For those in the "almost" class the following winter will be in the "if only" class. For those way out, next winter will blow colder and stiller, made bleak by thoughts of little hope and no progress.

Such have been the winters in San Diego in past years. Even in our December sunshine, baseball has been more hope than promise.

But no more. Winter here is now a time for planning of September happiness and October bliss. The National League pennant is a reasonable goal and the World Series crown is not improbably dream.

The heros will be many. The rewards great, perhaps even enough to pass around to all concerned. Maybe, but then, maybe not. One must first answer the question, How did baseball happen here?

The Pacific Coast League Padres moved into Old Lane field in 1936. It prospered at first, but the going wasn't good after the war and C. Arnhold Smith stepped in with love in his heart and funds to go on.

He came across hard times these last couple of years, but when things were right in his world, it was "Arnie" Smith who up-graded the Padres to National League level.

The financial squeeze on Smith forced the Padre's sale and the team was recued for San Diego by Ray Kroc, who made a fortune selling hamburgers but promises not to serve them in the product he offers on the field.

And let it also be remembered that in the period between Smith and Kroc the Padres were held together by the will of one man. There was no money, great pressures and a glum future. A lesser man would have cracked and gone screaming off into the sunset.

But not Buzzie Bavasi. He's a man of parts, of principle, of faith. But mostly he is a man of courage. His entire life was riding on the play of others. He had no hand in the most important game of his life. Out of sheer courage, raw guts if you will, he wheeled and dealed the Padres from poverty to pennant potential.

So, as the new season starts, and the dream becomes reality, let's remember how it came to be. Let's think as kindly of Smith for starting the dream and of Bavasi for keeping faith, as we surely will of Kroc for getting the job done. There would be no dream, no hope and no exciting future without each and every one. Peace, brother.

Gull Tilts Down to 6

Only six games remain on the 1973-74 schedule for the San Diego Gulls and all are crucial in the battle for the top spot in the WHL.

Friday night the Gulls will be in Denver to take on the Spurs and on Saturday Jack Evans and his men move over to Portland for an important battle with the Buckaroos.

Sunday the Salt Lake City Golden Eagles, currently in first place, will take on the Gulls at the Sports Arena. Faceoff for the game is 7 o'clock and tickets are available at the Arena box office.

The Gulls, with their 5-3 win Saturday night over the Totems in Seattle, have now won 7 of their last 10 games. Two home dates remain on the schedule and four encounters away from home.

Veteran right wing Bob Courcy has the hot scoring hand with 4 goals and 3 assists in his last seven games. Right wing Willie O'Ree has five goals in the last seven Gull games and Kerry Bond has hit for 7 goals in the same number of contests.

The latest Western Hockey League statistics show goalie John Adams playing more games (63), more minutes (3734), making the most saves (1907) and winning more games (34) than any other goaltender in the WHL.

GENE LITTLER

Healthy Gene Littler In ToC at La Costa

The question used to be asked in whispers, by people fearful of a tragic reply.

But time and help and luck have alleviated such concern. And at this year's Tournament of Champions, April 25-28 at La Costa, when people ask, "How's Littler doing?" they will be inquiring about his golf and not about his health.

It is proper that they do. Because Gene Littler is a favorite in this year's edition of the $200,000 Tournament of Champions, sponsored by Mutual of New York (MONY).

"I think Gene has a great chance to win here," said Tommy Jacobs, La Costa's resident golf professional. "He's an extremely straight driver and an exceptionally good chipper and putter. And this course caters to these skills."

With such prodigious hitters as Jack Nicklaus, Johnny Miller and Tom Weiskopf among the field of tournament winners, Littler's favoritism largely grows from the growth of the La Costa rough. Where the fairway concludes, rough three to five inches high commences. This cosmetic is unique with the Tournament of Champions and provokes a championship brand of golf even from the Champions participating. "Some players, because of the rough, have to sacrifice distance for accuracy," says Jacobs. "But Littler, because he is such a straight driver naturally, wouldn't have to."

Perfect Temperament Quiet, charming and imperturbable, Littler possesses the perfect temperament to conquer La Costa's rugged and unnerving layout.

He qualified for the 22nd edition of the Tournament of Champions (the sixth at La Costa Resort Hotel, Spa and Country Club) by winning the St. Louis Classic last July. His heart-warming triumph arrived 16 months after he had undergone surgery for cancer.

For awhile it appeared that his career, which included the U. S. Open title and three

Grand-Am Drags Next at Orange

EAST IRVINE, Calif. — Orange County International Raceway yields it only national championship points of the year on the weekend of April 5-6-7 when the track hosts the third event in the rich Grand American Series of professional drag racing.

The Grand American West encompasses the second half of what will be the richest week in the 25-year history of California drag racing. On the previous weekend, Fremont Raceway will be the scene of the 4th annual Northern Nationals, the second leg in the 10-race series.

Together, the back-to-back spectacles are worth slightly more than $200,000 in purse and contingency awards to the many drivers who will compete in the four professional categories... top fuel, funny car, pro stock and the new pro comp eliminator bracket.

"Big Daddy", "Snake", "Mongoose", "Shoe", "Superman", "Hawaiian" and all the other nationally-known nicknames will glow in blazing letters on the cars of such stars as Don Garlits, Don Prudhomme, Tom McEwen, Don Schumacher, Jim Nicoll and Roland Leong.

Other well-known monikers of drag racing among early entrants are Jim Dunn, star of the recent box office smash "Funny Car Summer", Ed McCulloch, Tony Nancy, Sush Matsubara, and Dennis Baca.

McEwen will be defending the funny car title he won at last year's Grand American West when California drivers dominated the winner's circle. James Warren of Bakersfield won the top fuel division in the final round against Ron Attebury after Butch Leal of Tulare captured the pro stock victory with a world record setting elapsed time clocking of 8.88 seconds.

World Champ

Garlits eventually won the World Championship in top fuel while Jungle Jim Liberman nabbed the funny car laurels and Dick Landy the pro stock crown.

Big Daddy will again have the "digger to beat" as the Seffner, Fla. resident lost out in the final round with a freak brake failure in the Winter Nationals in January at Phoenix, site of the 1974 debut of the Grand American Series. He also won the SuperNationals late last year.

Schumacher again looms as the funny car favorite after his backup car won at Phoenix with Ray Beadle in the cockpit. Bob Glidden was the winner in the pro stock category at the Winter Nationals.

Sixteen drivers will qualify for each of the top fuel, funny car and pro comp brackets and eight cars will make the pro stock field.

OCIR's gates will open at 12:00 p.m. on Friday, April 5 for the opening of qualify and time trials.

On Saturday, April 6, gates open at 10 a.m. for additional qualifying, trophy runs and first round eliminations for top fuel, funny car and pro comp classes.

Gates open at 8 a.m. Sunday, April 7 for amateur class time trials and eliminations. The Queen's Parade is set for 1:30 p.m. and final eliminations in pro categories will get underway at 2 p.m.

Garcia Meets Moyer Friday in Crown Quest

RENATO GARCIA

His name is Renato Garcia and he hails from Santiago, Chile.

He has fought five times in Mickey Davies' Coliseum and has won every fight.

He has won every one of his 23 professional bouts, 12 by knockouts, and is said to be destined for the world's middleweight crown.

A long step toward that end comes for him Friday at 8:15 when he meets cagey, clever, experienced, former junior middleweight champion Denny Moyer. The difference between junior middleweight and middleweight is five pounds with the latter being the heavier at 160.

Davies says the bout is "the most attractive one ever staged in the Coliseum." Those who have viewed the devas-

Padres Media Guide Available to Public

The 1974 edition of the San Diego Padre media guide is now available for sale to the general public.

The 68-page guide is a must for all Padre fans as it contains all the pertinent information on Padre players and organization. The book contains complete statistical coverage of the Padres and their players from the inception of the ball club through the 1973 season.

Books may be ordered by sending a check or money order for $1.50 for each guide to Padres Press Guide, P.O. Box 2000, San Diego, CA 92120.

tating punching power of Renato can easily believe it.

Garcia, a 21-year boxer, has become the favorite of local fans. He scored an impressive 9th-round knockout over tough Marco Gerardo late last year in his first San Diego fight.

Local Victories

He also beat Jose Martin Flores, Chuchio Garcia and David Love twice in the local punch palace. In his second battle with Love he ended it with a single right hand smash.

He then flew home to Chile for the holidays and while vacationing he flattened two opponents in his own country and is now given the treatment of a national hero.

Garcia told members of the Sportscenter / Sportswriters Assn. this week that he will be world's champion as soon as he can get a fight against the present titleholder.

To bulwark his determination to become champion and live in this country, Garcia bought a home this week in North Hollywood. He's a determined young man.

If Garcia whips Moyer, he is said to have a chance to go against the World Junior Middleweight Champ, Wajimi Kolchil, in Japan.

Moyer's Credentials Good

If Garcia looks promising, Moyer's credentials look even better. His winning record resembles a Boxing Hall of Fame roster. Just a sprinkling off the top includes Sugar Ray Robinson, Don Jordan, Benny Paret, Paddy DeMarco, Gaspar Artega, Virgil Atkins and Carlos Monzon.

He has also challenged for the welterweight and middleweight crowns.

But Moyer is past his prime and the baby-faced Garcia is comparatively raw—but rising fast. It'll be a whale of a fight.

In another 10-round middleweight fight, Mike Avon will try Eddie Mazon of San Diego.

Two other bouts will also be on the program. Seats are $10-$7 and $3.

Last week, Rodney Bobick, younger brother of Olympics-famed Duane Bobick, outpointed Mike Weaver, a raw pro with a 4-2 record. Weaver might have won if the fight had lasted another two or three rounds. Bobick tired fast and reinjured his knee which was a casualty of football, he said.

Hildo Silva won a split decision from Bobby Stewart in 10 rounds; Felix Garcia took a technical decision from Raul Morales with a cut left eye-brow, and Carlos Barragon KO'd Jesus Marichal in the third round.

victories in the Tournament of Champions, had been ended by the cruel disease. But although the surgery was performed in spring of 1972, Littler was able to return to the tour by October.

Last year he entered 22 PGA tournaments and placed in the money in 19 of them. He earned $95,308 while compiling a competitive stroke average of 71.5 and had 18 rounds in the 60's.

Littler is the recipient of the 1973 Ben Hogan Award for his courageous recovery, and the 1973 Bob Jones Award for distinguished sportsmanship in golf.

Gene is Gene

It is a measure of the man that despite a record that includes 25 tournament victories, Littler is more admired among sports fans for being Gene Littler—"a soft-spoken golfer whose qualities include charm, dignity and wits."

In addition to Littler, Nicklaus, Miller and Weiskopf, qualifiers for the Tournament of Champions include San Diegans Billy Casper and John Schroeder, Dave Stockton, Bruce Crampton, Lanny Wadkins, Bobby Nichols.

The exciting Ben Crenshaw and exceptionally talented John Mahaffey also have qualified.

Others are Miller Barber, Jerry Heard, Dave Hill, Hale Irwin, Burt Green, Bert Greene, Leonard Thompson, Ed Sneed and Sam Adams. Season tickets for all six tournament days are available now at La Costa. Practice rounds are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23-24, with the 72-hole tournament April 25-28.

Advice for Vets

On Tax Form Filing

Veterans, who are property owners, should be on the lookout for their tax exemption forms that were recently mailed to their last address of record, David Leslie, Veteran Service Officer for San Diego warned.

"Actually, the veteran will be better off if he files for the homeowner's exemption since he gets a $1,750 exemption on his property instead of the $1,000 presently allowed under the veteran's exemption. To take advantage of the homeowner's exemption the veteran must file each year," he said.

Spring Football Drills Start for Red-Black Team

Claude Gilbert starts his second year as head football coach at S.D. State U. as the Aztecs officially opened spring drills this week.

Gilbert expects to have nearly 70 players in camp for spring ball. Workouts will run from now to May 2 with the annual Red-Black varsity vs. alumni game slated for May 4 at 7:30 p.m. in Aztec Bowl.

Headed the list of returning lettermen are All-America candidates Bobby Henderson and Benny Ricardo. Henderson was State's top defensive player last year, making 158 tackles from his linebacker position. Henderson led the team with 88 unassisted tackles, 70 assists and five interceptions. He was a first team All-PCAA pick.

Ricardo, a kicker, hit 39 of PAT's and 8 of 11 field goals. His late field goal against Pacific staked the Aztecs to a 13-10 win and his last second boot against San Jose State produced a tie.

The other top returnees are guard Tony Bachmann and defensive back Monte Jackson, both All-PCAA picks, running back Frank Geary, David Darden, Tim Thorn, and Bill Kramer, and linebacker Bruce Algra.

Geary, Thorn, Darden and Kramer accounted for 1410 of State's 1422 rushing yards last year. They will be supplemented by new recruits.

"Actually, the veteran will be better off if he files for the homeowner's exemption since he gets a $1,750 exemption on his property instead of the $1,000 presently allowed under the veteran's exemption. To take advantage of the homeowner's exemption the veteran must file each year," he said.

PETITIONERS — Grossmont High School District coaches and teachers were working local shopping centers last week to ask repeal of AB 1267. The Bill is said to penalize the district financially. Due to a budgetary shortage which the district administration blames on AB 1267, 97 coaches have indicated they would not field athletic team in the 1974-75 school year in order to let whatever money is available go to academics.

A citizens group blames the shortage of the profligacy of the administration. It is charged that the administration used tax override money to help build the new Valhalla school and that additional funds are needed because of that.

Medicare Deadline Extended To April 1

People who want Medicare coverage and neglected to file when they were first eligible may enroll now through April 1st at any Social Security office.

Medicare is a program of health insurance under social security, set up to help Americans 65 and older, and disabled people under 65, to pay the high cost of health care. It has two parts—hospital and medical insurance.

The hospital insurance part of Medicare helps pay for the care a person receives as a patient in a hospital and for certain follow-up care after he/she leaves the hospital.

The medical insurance part of Medicare helps pay for doctor's services, out-patient hospital services and many other medical items and services not covered under hospital insurance.

Practically everyone 65 or older is eligible for Medicare and since July 1, 1973 the following people are also eligible: Disabled people who have been getting social security disability benefits for 2 years or more; and

People insured under social security who need dialysis treatment or a kidney transplant because of chronic kidney disease. Wives, husbands, or children of insured people may also be eligible if they need kidney dialysis or a transplant.

If you have questions about Medicare, call 293-5550.

Sheriff's Association Backs WeTIP With Another $1,000

The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has issued a resolution commending the Sheriff's Association for its participation in the community-based, non-profit WeTIP program. WeTIP is an acronym for We Turn in Pushers and the Association presented the organization with a check for $1,000—the second check in the past several months.

WeTIP is a statewide hotline operation in which citizens may give anonymous tips on suspected pushers. The tipsters are assigned a code name and all contacts are made under that name. They never reveal their true name even when the reward is paid.

Rewards are in cash, between $500 and $1,000, and paid to the person who identifies himself only by code name.

In the two years the program has been in operation, 4,952 tips have been given. 513 arrests have been made and 121 convictions have resulted. Rewards totaling $12,000 have been paid and drugs with a street value of $4,109, 830 have been confiscated.

The project is funded by the public with additional income going to operate the hot-line telephone lines longer each day. Service clubs are urged to participate in the program.

Smokers May Pay For Cancer Cure

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Bob Wilson (D-La Mesa) has introduced legislation to raise money to help find a cure for cancer. His bill would increase the California cigarette tax by a penny a pack to replace income lost by carcinogen research groups to cutbacks in funds.

The increase would raise an estimated $25 million a year to be used solely to help find a cure for cancer.

Geiberger Clinic For S.D. Youth

SAN DIEGO COUNTRY ESTATES—Former PGA champion Al Geiberger will stage a special clinic for young southland golfers at this resort community, Saturday and it is expected to be an annual event.

Geiberger will offer personal instruction to youngsters from 10 through 17, starting at 1 p.m. on the driving range of the San Vicente Country Club. All junior golfers are invited to attend. Pictures will be taken of Geiberger and the golfers.

Since turning professional in 1959 following a standout record at the University of Southern California, Geiberger has been a consistent money-winner on the pro tour, ranking in the top twenty on golf's all-time money-winning list. He is currently director of golf for San Diego Country Estates as well as a regular on the tour.

Admission is free and the clinic is open to all youngsters 10 through 17.

S. D. Country Estates is located in the San Vicente Valley, four miles south of Ramona and can be reached from San Diego via Interstate 8 and Highway 67.

Low-Cost Pro Promoter Starts Local Play

Bruce Osborne and Bob Clark, a pair of former collegiate golf stars, have gone all the way from dreaming about it to doing it.

They are getting underway April 4 with a series of professional golf tournaments designed for the player. The entry fee is low and the return a surprising 90 percent.

They are producing 10 two day, 36 hole tournaments to be played over the beautiful 6,960 yard Carlton Oaks Country Club course in San Diego.

Carlton Oaks will be the scene of the NCAA Golf Championships in June. It is a long and narrow course with a small stream adding additional discomforts to the back nine.

Successive tournaments will follow the opener each Monday and Thursday until the 10 match series is completed on May 7th.

"We are getting players from across the United States, Canada and Mexico," said Osborne. "The series practically named itself. We call it the International Tournament Golf Association (ITGA)."

Osborne, a graduate of the San Diego Junior Golf program, was a varsity player for Stan Wood at USC.

Clark is a former NCAA golf champion and two-time All-American from Los Angeles State.

"Most of our players are just starting out," he said. "It can be a long time between paydays on any golf tour but especially on a mini-tour like ours. That's why we set this up to return 90 percent of the $300 entry fee to the players."

More than 70 players have signed to play in the opening tourney. The field is limited to 120 players.

Band and orchestra projects are offered by a large majority of the more than 73,308 elementary U. S. schools.

LG Board Backs Grossmont saying that he was "sympathetic but that the amendment was clear in its purpose".

The board finally agreed to a compromise measure. They moved to support Grossmont by sending a message to the legislature with a provision to delay effective action on the amendment for one year.

The school board also agreed to a sale of their surplus equipment in May. A sealed bid and auction type arrangement will be used. The items for sale include office equipment and musical instruments.

The meeting, held at the Lemon Grove Education Center, also finalized the arrangements for the Senior Citizen's Nutrition Program. The District has a contract to provide transportation and facilities for the government-funded project.

Louis Poluzzi, Elmer Pederesen and Miss Relene Keller from Lemon Grove Junior High presented a slide program outlining the school's one week Mini Course schedule. During that week students participated in a variety of classes, including skiing, fishing, gourmet cooking and advanced macrame.

Jack O'Halloran, former state heavyweight boxing champion, won a fight with a waitress but may lose the decision to the law.

O'Halloran, 30, who last year was a favorite among local fight fans until he began losing fights with monotonous regularity, entered a plea of innocent to a felony assault charge regarding to fight March 9 in a bar on El Cajon Blvd.
